

The Story of
THANKSGIVING

In 1620, the pilgrims sailed from England in their ship, the Mayflower, and landed at Plymouth Rock in America.

The first winter was cold and hard.

Squanto, a native American, came to help.

He showed the pilgrims how to plant.

Build wigwams for shelter.

Hunt bear for fur.

And hunt turkey for meat.

The pilgrims had a bountiful harvest.

They invited the native Americans and had a big feast, the first Thanksgiving

Today, people go to parades.

Watch football.

And have big feasts. Somethings change somethings stay the same. Happy Thanksgiving.
